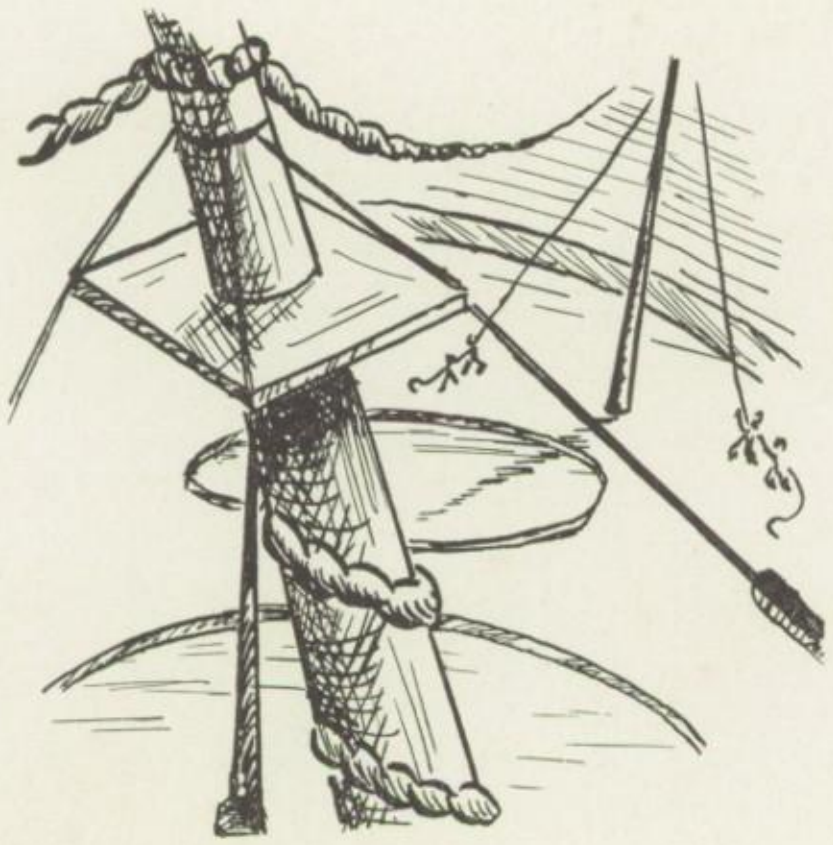
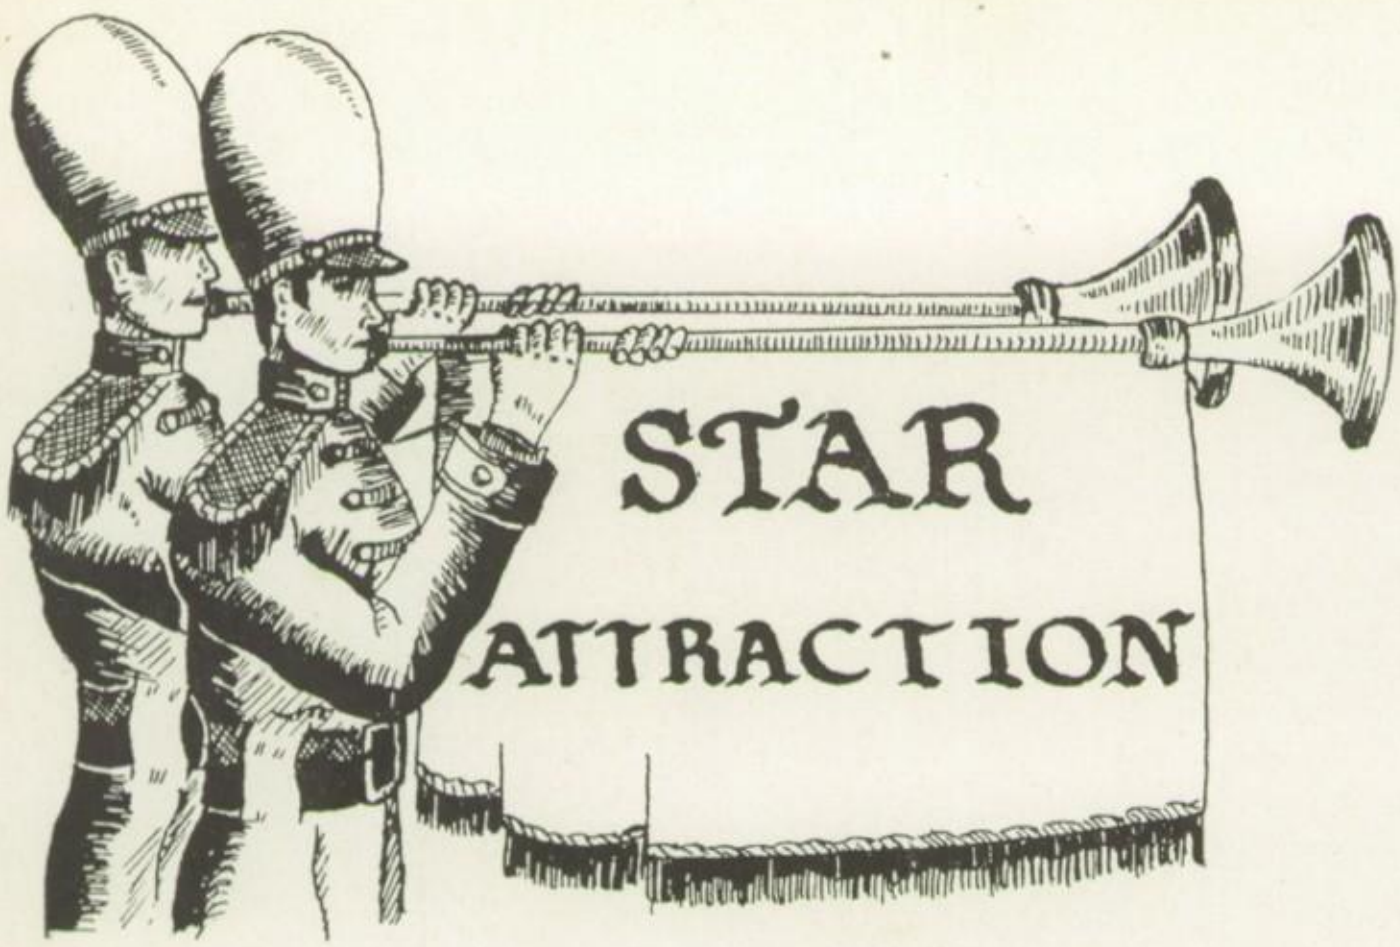
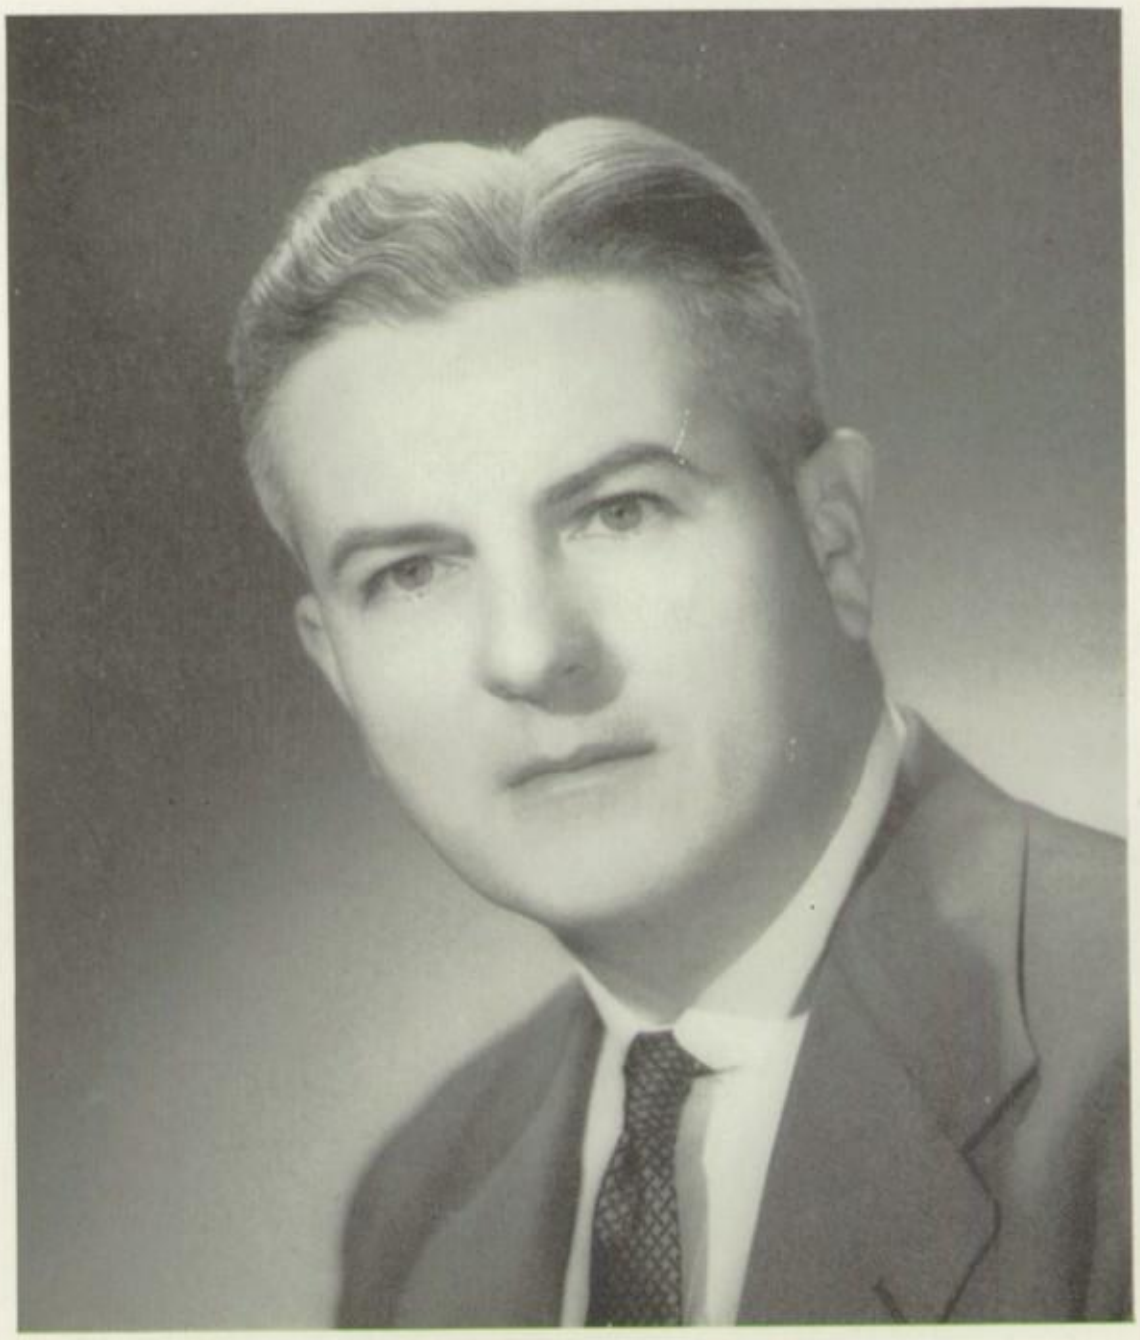
THE SHOWGROUNDS

UNDER THE BIG TOP





JOHN FULLER



Before the grand finale of graduation we would like to give one last bouquet of thanks to the star performer, Mr. Fuller, our class advisor.

We shall always remember Mr. Fuller there doing more than his share of the work, whether the show on the road was a play, a dance, or just another cake sale.

To thank him for his work and his steady advice, we, his troupe of seniors, dedicate our yearbook, the Alhambra, to him.

We do this in gratitude for all he has done for our class.

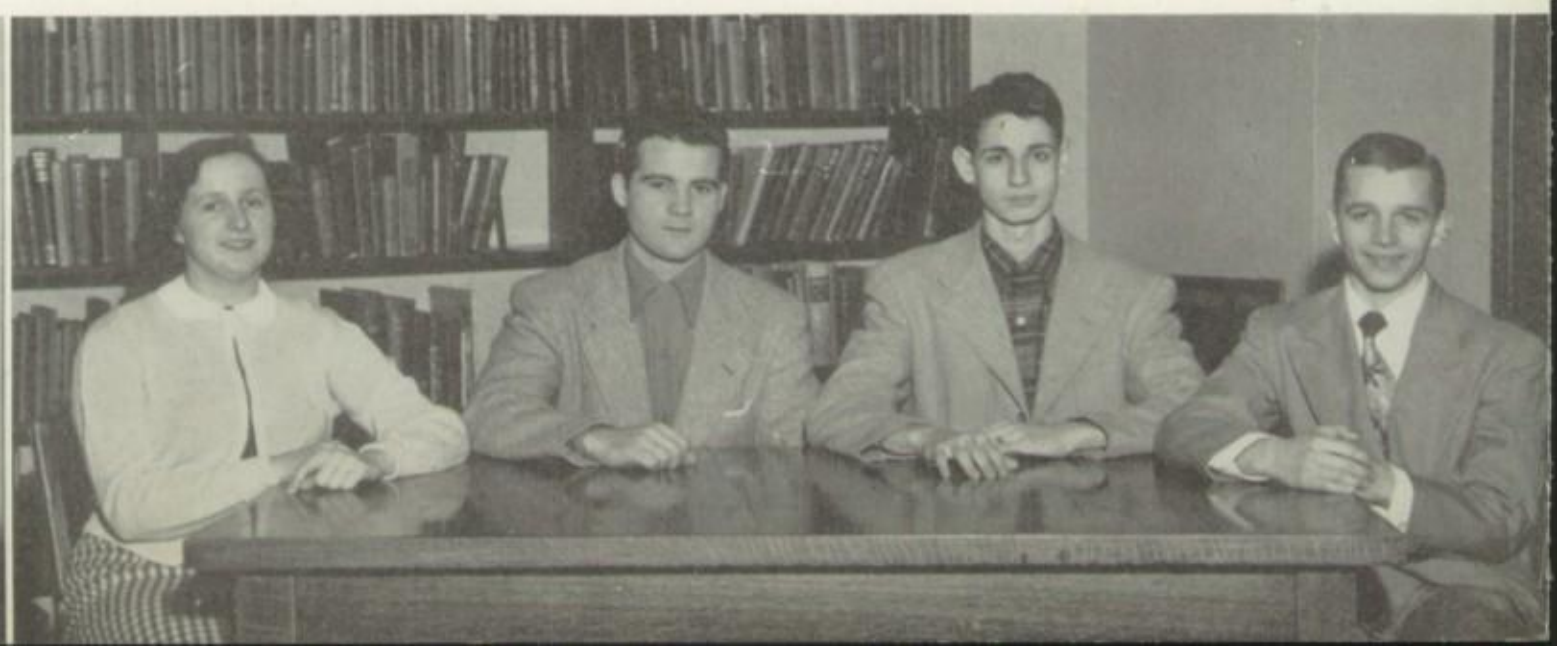
IN THE



Early in September of the year 1948 we, the members of the present main attractions of the show, gave up our roles as lesser or junior performers and boarded the train to begin our trip through four years of high school. The first stop was to elect Dick Wood president of our freshman class. Assisting him were Frank Frasca, Harriet Guttman, and John Burns. We also wisely selected Mr. Fuller to be our engineer for four years.

The next stop was not entirely voluntary; we were initiated by those horrible creatures from the side show, the Sophomores.

During the year we also made a few stops. One was our Freshman dance which many still remember as a fine performance. The other was our trip to Playland.

One bright September morn of 1949, we came bounding back after a two months vacation to the show, lights, grease paint, and the second lap of our journey. We came back as Sophomores. We elected Thomas Murphy as our new conductor with Ella May Boons, Nancy Starrett, and Joan Moore as assistants.

After a very successful magazine sale, we took our turn in wreaking vengeance upon the unsuspecting underclassmen in November. In moving the road show to the north, we snowballed into the gym with our Sophomore dance, the Blizzard of '49.

That following spring with the show in warmer climes, we, as Sophomores, again made the pious pilgrimage to Playland. This was also the spring of our first orgy of Regents exams.

During the early fall of 1950 we came back with the expression, "Will we ever get star billing?" As junior stars we came back to perform as Juniors.

In December we did receive some sign of our coming stardom. Our rings came. That spring we dramatically and comically emoted our lines to a full house with "Home Sweet Homicide", our class play; chose our class colors—navy blue and silver; and chose our class motto, "Launched But Not Anchored". That spring, led by Marshall Corey, Ella May Boons, Elisabeth Taylor, and David Strawson, we entertained the departing stars of the show, the graduating Seniors, with our prom, "Harbor Lights".

Finally, at long last, we made the center ring as the stars of the show. We became Seniors with the glamour and spotlights of being the center of attraction.

We began the year with the fanfare of electing Frank Frasca president of the Senior Class. To assist him on the final lap of our journey, we selected Leonard Levitan, Ella May Boons, and Roger Roy. One of the main attractions of the year was our sale of Christmas cards. Another was our Senior play, "Uncle Fred Flits By". They were followed by our banquet, Baccalaureate, Class night, and finally Commencement. Yes, we are reaching the end of our four year journey through Washington Irving High School. The final stop is rapidly approaching when we will leave our circus train for the last time to enter that bigger show, life itself.

THE SHOW GOES ON

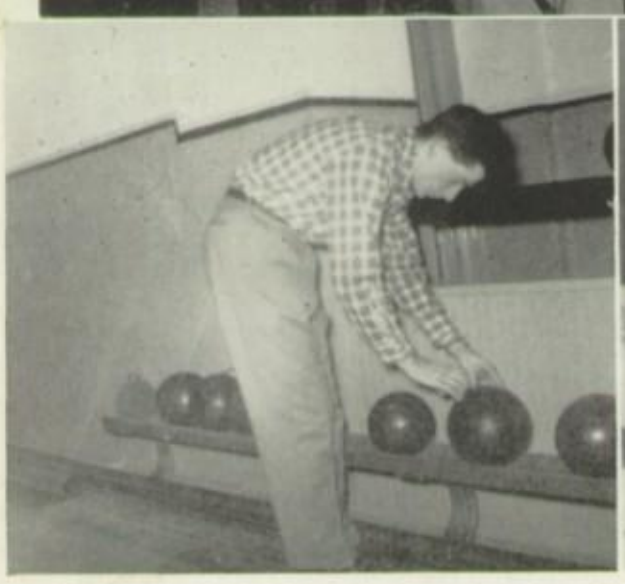
The stars in the Circus pass along the things which they have acquired during their years in "Show Biz" to the up-and-coming performers. In this way the show can keep on going. The Class of '52 agrees—"The show must go on," so we leave to the future stars all those little things which we are sure they can't do without.

Raymond Avellino leaves his studious ways to Dave Wylock.
Denny Bearce leaves for the woods—to go hunting, that is.
Juliann Bollard leaves to supervise the County Home.
Ella May Boons leaves her maternal instincts for next year's senior play.
Mary Brancato leaves, still wailin' in Whelan's.
Joe Burns leaves the football team to Lee Nemlich.
Kay Bushel leaves the Majorette's uniform to the twirling corps.
Stuart Cartoon leaves the male lead in the next play to Walter Teague.
Connie Clark leaves as Hackley's Ambassador to W.I.
Dick Clark leaves us in stitches.
Marshall Corey leaves . . . But sir . . .
Mildred deMichele leaves Connie to represent the family.
Nancy Dempster leaves to be a minx in minks.
Harold DeSoto leaves his knowledge of history to Jim Wright.
Jeanette Dinwoodie leaves her quiet ways to Marcella Calabretta.
Helen Elliot leaves her car for "Old Times' Sake."
Nellie Engelberg leaves with Joe.
Robert Errico leaves singing, "Be Happy, Go Lucky.'
Carmella Falbo leaves her dimples to Sugar Cito.
Gary Feldtmann leaves his house for the next party.
Herbert Fletcher leaves a painting to hang in Mr. C's room.
John Franceschini leaves the substitute teachers still trying to pronounce his name.
Betty Frasca leaves as "Steady Betty."
Frank Frasca leaves his eyes to be the inspiration for a bestseller.
George Frasca leaves, wearing his sneakers.
Gay Gatyas leaves the cheerleaders to Maria.
Harriet Goldberg leaves to show the college girls how it's done.
Marjorie Hofstedt leaves the car to Pete.
Jerome Hogan leaves his sorrow at leaving school to Joe Frattura.
Harry Johnson leaves to go deer hunting . . . two or four legs?
Joan Kensky leaves . . . who'll mind Mr. Fuller's daughter?
Judy Kipp leaves to give New Year's Eve parties once a month.
Bette Kopunek leaves for Ossining.
Robert Kutrieb leaves his violin to Billy Hallstein.
Richard Lawrence leaves, snap-happy as ever.
Claude Lee leaves in his airplane . . . it's a bird, it's a plane, it's Claude!
Leonard Levitan leaves his bright shirts to some color-blind junior.
Bernice Margotta leaves her blonde hair to Lee Ann MacKnight.
Dominick Mascola leaves to join the Fire Department.
Benito Masselli leaves the wood alcohol to the rest of the school.

Harold McElroy leaves . . . we've finally exhausted the supply of McElroys.
Pat McGarrett leaves to become business manager for her talented cat.
Sarah Michael leaves for the Sunny South.
Claire Milligan leaves her typing ability to anyone who likes to write longhand.
Joan Moore leaves to rise to the heights.
Raymond Moore leaves his art ability to Bob Case.
Mary Moran leaves with her hand in the cash register of the Five and Ten.
Melvin Myers leaves his height to John Lyden.
Joseph Naughton leaves naught but a smile.
Andrew Nichols leaves his technique to Donald Morin.
Ted Nielson leaves as an example for John Cito.
Carol Osborn leaves Benedict Ave Hill to anyone who needs the exercise.
Alan Pardoe leaves Mr. O'Toole's car to Mr. O'Toole . . . or does he?
Jean Pastell leaves her math book in the cafeteria.
Ed Pilla doesn't leave anything—he's taking it all with him!
Marilyn Prior leaves her dancing ability to Janet Cruger.
Charles Quigley leaves to teach Arthur Murray the Charleston.
Roger Roy leaves to start a new motto in Russ's . . . "Sip Sal's Sloppy Sodas."
Nancy Sawyer leaves singin "Home On The Range."
Fred Schlegal—the two Freds leave—
Fred Smith—not flitting by!
Sandra Solomon leaves Mr. Cushman looking for a secretary.
Bettejane Speno leaves the Aces to Alberta.
David Strawson leaves Louise.
Jean Strawson leaves a bottle of Nitric Acid to Mr. Gray.
Anna Mae Taxter leaves her problems to Mr. Cornwell.
Elisabeth Taylor leaves the orchestra piano to the termites.
Joy Teachout leaves Sunnyside Restoration to posterity.
Doris Torhan leaves Glenville to whoever wants it.
Theresa Trombone leaves her name to Mr. Hackett . . . he can always use 'em.
Robert Verrone leaves with a big, black umbrella . . . "I say there, old bean."
Jack Vieira leaves with "Adios" for Mrs. Weber.
John Walpuck leaves to replace the Man in the "Moon".
Betty Lou Warren leaves the Alhambra to the Juniors.
Roland Williams leaves homeroom 210 in peace at last.
Rosemary Woertendyke leaves for Florida.
Richard Wood leaves . . . will he make graduation on time?
Donald Young leaves his quietness to Nelson Neimark.

The Class of '52 leaves to everyone:

The memory of our Junior play . . . "Home Sweet Homicide" . . . when the gun went off by mistake . . . (Mr. Anderson got his finger stuck in the trigger.)
Senior English and Mr. Richardson's jokes.
The chemistry lab . . . with our blessing.
The senior homerooms . . . A place in the sun.
Marshall Corey's report on Student Government Day at the G.O. open meeting.
A few extra booths in Russ's.
A supply of Christmas cards.
And last, we leave W.I. in your care.



IN THE FIRST RING . . . .

We took up our winter quarters in September and chose as our ringmasters Harold Fox, Grier Horner, Sandra Tapper, and Ellen Martin. We spent most of the time in training for the big performance ahead of us—our senior year.

To raise money for the expenses of the show we held a very successful cake sale which was followed closely by the sale of 500 pencils with W. I's basketball schedule printed on them.

With the arrival of our class rings we were able to show the rest of the world that we were members of a grand troupe of performers.

The traditional Junior play and the Prom were the last projects we undertook before we left our winter quarters with our trainer, Mr. Caivano, for the showgrounds of the senior class.

IN THE SECOND RING...

Here we are spinning on the second lap of our four year merry-go-round. The jockeys on the lead horses are Bill Cotter, Bill Langhans, Rose Marie Brady, and Irene Rizzi.

At the Freshman Initiation we quickened the pace of our steeds, gave them a real spin for their money and sent them on their way.

To keep the machinery of the merry-go-round in good running order and the music loud and clear we sponsored a stupendous magazine sale that added piles of pennies to our treasury. Next we stopped the carousel long enough to present the dance "The Night Before Christmas." Finally we had a cake sale at McCord's which finished off the year in good style.

And so we spin on with our advisor Mr. Cornwell into the great unknown ahead of us.

Nelson,
Good luck to a swell guy. Keep your chin up & you'll be O.K.

IN THE THIRD RING....

All aboard for 1955. The first scheduled stop of our circus train was made for the first freshman class meeting. At this time the crew was elected. Engineer, John Stiloski; Fireman, Angelo Monti; Trainman, Dick White; Conductor, Kenny Fink; Signalman, Miss Hahn. The fare was set at 50¢ per person.

The second stop occurred on October 29th. All passengers were initiated by the brutal sophomores. When these brigands released us we were full-fledged freshmen, though we resembled decorated Indians.

Shortly after this event the circus train ran out of fuel. Money was raised for this necessity by selling candy at basketball games. No one was overworked because the train is well-packed with freshmen.

We look forward to an exciting and pleasant trip into the future, knowing that our train will be well-manned and will hold to the tracks.

SIDE SHOW

Everyone of the star circus performers had at least one time in his life before reaching the actual big show when he went through the period of training and a period being a less brightly shining star. That is the period that you, the seventh and eighth grades, find yourselves in now. You are passing through that short period of junior stardom that all go through before they reach the main rings of the greatest show on earth or that life as stars among the greats.

During the past year, we of the Senior High have seen something new in your section of the school. You, the members of the junior high school, have organized for the first time in the history of the school. This was done with the help and advice of Mr. Cushman. As a result of this organization, you held a candy sale at the Bronxville basketball game and also went roller skating at Mount Vernon, both of which were done by the two of you, the junior high classes.

There have been also a few people that have contributed to your development whom we hope you will never forget. Will you ever forget the modern presentation of "Aida" and "Il Trovatore" as given within the comfort of Miss Canfield's parlor. Then there are those Math notebooks for Miss Worthington and the first experience with hammers and nails from the shop.

With such an example of training and success behind you, we are sure that your troupe will be successful when you finally reach the main rings.

SPOTLIGHT

There are many people in school who never receive recognition for what they do, but their deeds are appreciated and remembered by everyone. Therefore the Alhambra would like to spotlight;

Mr. Zimka, first for being a wonderful h neroom teacher and second for all those baskets missed in Typing.

Mr. Olsen, Mr. Anderson, Pat, and Grant, without whom the dances, games and plays would never be possible. They were always willing to give up their time to help us.

Miss Gates, the inspiration for the Alhambra, whose advice and assistance made this book possible.

Mrs. Hadley, the guiding hand behind each wonderful play put on in W.I.

Miss Canfield, who taught us "The Anvil Chorus" with the aid of rulers in Room 101.

Mr. Cushman, who organized the seventh and eighth grades and who has helped us with all our college problems.

Dave Strawson, our school leader, as president of the G.O.

Nancy and Betty Lou, who have spent all their afternoons working to produce this book, and who are first in the seniors' eyes.

Sandra Solomon, who has done a wonderful job as editor of the Sunnyside.

Mr. Reilly and Mr. Menna and the team for entertaining us with the basketball games.

Mr. Millman and the football team for winning the H.R.L. and Pop Stearns and the J.V.'s for their good job.

Mr. Dinsmore and the chorus who put on a fine performance this year at Grand Central Station and in the Spring Concert.

Mr. Hackett and the band who will always be remembered for the concerts and for playing at games.

Juliann and Kay who did an excellent job leading the band and helping Mr. Hackett.

"Old Woman" which will always recall to us the music and entertainment of the Hudsonaires. aires.

Duncan Dempster and the Latin I class for the beautiful Roman house built and decorated by them.

The Boys Hi-Y and the Class of '45 who together donated the new trophy case.

Miss Wright and the panel of four, Bob Verrone, Alan Harwood, Roger Girard, and Carita Richardson who spoke before the Rotary Club and The League of Women Voters on the United Nations.

Ella May Boons who won the D.A.R. prize.

Carol Starkey who made the beautiful paintings on the history of the world.

The A.A. and the G.A.A. who gave an entertaining assembly on square dancing and basketball.

The Honor Society which encourages high standards and dramaticallv presented the four qualifications of the ideal citizen.

The Boys' Cooking Class who make us hungry the seventh period with those delicious aromas which fill the halls.

The Senior Girls Club who assembled a scrapbook about life in America to be sent to Europe.

The Junior Class for the Prom which we Seniors are looking forward to.

Leonard and Herbie for their marvelous art work in the yearbook.

All the girls who ushered at the plays and who added sparkle and glamour to the affairs.

The Science Club boys and Mr. Flickinger who made the visual aid projects such a success.

The students of the Public Speaking Class who conducted all our assemblies.

Mrs. Plumleigh and her Home Economics division who made the artificial window.

The homeroom chairmen who have been such good leaders in the G.O.

The Interior Decorating class who made and decorated the model rooms.

The Hudson River whose beautiful sunsets have especially been appreciated by the staff this year.

All our teachers who have worked so hard and long to fit us for our life ahead.

All who try to keep up the standards of W.I.

FOOTBALL SEASON 1951

W.I.'s prestige on the gridiron was finally restored in the 1951 football season by the Authors battling their way to the coveted Hudson River League Title. It was the first title won by Coach Dave Millman in the short time he's been here. Through the assistance of Pat Menna, Coach Millman was determined and confident of winning the title from the first kickoff of the season. They worked long and hard afternoons, developing the talent he knew he had, trying to train it to the best advantage possible. His success is not only exemplified by the winning of the H.R.L. Title, but also by the election of several players to the second and third string All County Teams, one receiving 2nd string nomination in the All Metropolitan Team, and a commendable number to the H.R.L. All Star Team.

However, all these honors did not go uncelebrated. The team obtained championship jackets and attended various victory dinners sponsored in their honor, the outstanding one being given by the Dad's Club of the Tarrytowns where each player received small gold footballs.

In conclusion, it must be said that the size of the crowds that attended the games, including alumni, students, and local fans, is worth a word of praise. They never at any time lost faith in their team and the frenzied cheers and noise incited the team to put in its every effort toward a victory. With such a successful season as this, one can only look forward anxiously to 1952 as W.I. once more takes the field.

BASKETBALL

Judging by the unimpressive record compiled by our team this year one could possibly conclude that we merely had a mediocre team. This wasn't the case, however, for most of the losses we suffered were settled in the final seconds of the game. One or two baskets in those hectic battles usually were the deciding margin and to our misfortune they were usually made by our opponents. Led by high-scoring Murray Guttman, our team gave a good account of themselves in every game. The other starters who also deserve a lot of credit were John Lyden, Andy Nichols, Angelo Monti and Captain Joe Burns. Mr. Reilly, coaching our team for the first year, has done a fine job in developing the players, considering that our team was hit very hard by last year's graduation.

BASEBALL SEASON 1951

The baseball season at Washington Irving was highly victorious with the Authors copping the Hudson River League Title undefeated. The highly spirited team under the strategic piloting of Coach "Gig" Nicol, showed constant hustle and determination to win. Captain Frank Demeter with his fighting spirit was a good leader on the field throughout the season, which was highlighted by two-no-hitters pitched by George Bowles against Peekskill and rival N.T. (The record credits Coach Nicol with leading W.I. to three championships in five years.) At the conclusion of the season, W.I.'s record stood admirably at 8 wins and no defeats.

LEE TO MARS

The noted scientist, Claude Lee took off in his rocket ship from Death Valley early this morning for his excursion to Mars. Accompanying him on this trip were George Frasca, head radioman; Dick Wood, head mechanic; Benito Masselli, head photographer; Denny Bearce, head hunter; Harold McElory, head in charge of food and beverages; and Ed Pilla, head - - - .

The rocket ship, a new conception in structure, was designed by Alan Pardoe and constructed by F. Frasca and Graham, Inc. One of the reasons for the trip is to pick up Richard G. Lawrence and Richard Clark, who were left there to lighten the load.

Mary Brancato and Doris Torhan, stenographers, are going along on this trip for the ride.

BUSINESS WOMEN MEET

With her charming Florida smile, President Rosemary Woertendyke called to order the annual meeting of the National Business Women's Association which is being held in Cincinnati this year. Rosemary is now one of the leading wholesalers of sheet music.

After a reading of the minutes of the last meeting by the national recording secretary, Anna May Taxter, the various committee reports were given. Helen Elliot gave the report of the social welfare committee, the field in which she has always done her greatest work. Also giving a report for her committee was Judy Kipp who came to the convention as the leading delegate from the nurses of Grasslands.

There among the delegation of secretaries from New York were found Carmella Falbo, Nellie Engleberg, Bette Kopuneck, Sarah Michel, and Mary Moran.

MOORE IS NOMINATED

Attention, Mr. and Mrs. Washington Irving and the faculty at sea, let's go to press.

Last evening at the nominating convention in Chicago, for the first time in American history, a woman was nominated for the highest office in the land, the office of president of the United States. That woman is Joan Moore. As you remember, her name was placed on the floor of the convention by Senator Bob Verrone who has been plugging her for the presidency since last fall.

In an interview before the third and last ballot, her campaign manager, Ella May Boons, who is also the president of the Daughters of the American Revolution, said that Miss Moore probably would choose Juliann Bollard as her running mate if she were nominated.

Miss Moore was first mentioned for the office two years ago by Sandra Solomon and Betty Lou Warren, the editors of the New Porker Magazine. It is believed that the funds for her pre-convention campaign were supplied on the most part by Connie Clark, head of the Hoyal typewriter concern, and Marshall Corey, owner of the New York Limes.

Aside from the main activities of the convention, the activities behind the scene were also rather interesting. First of all, there was the grand entrance of one of America's leading historians, Harold DeSoto. With him were the two heads of the National Association of Hermits houses, Ted Nielson and Jeanette Dinwoodie. Also behind the very darkest of the scenes were that notorious gambler from Nevada, Dominick Mascola, and David George Strawson, the head of the New York political machine.

SPORTS REVIEW

Met Marilyn 'Gussie' Prior at a tennis luncheon the other day . . . she had just returned from winning the Davis cup in Australia . . . Also at the luncheon was Donald Young who is a comer in American tennis . . . That evening was at a New York basketball game . . . sat behind Jean Pastell who is the goalie on the Granger hockey team . . . the game was rather good in spots . . . Andy Nichols was more effective than usual as center . . . As were Burns and Errico, his teammates . . . Also met John Walpuck in the lobby . . . he told me he'll be playing with the football Rams next year . . .

Heard this football through the grapevine that Bettejane Speno and Nancy Sawyer have been signed by a mid-western team of women's baseball . . . This was probably accomplished through the efforts of their managers, Theresa Trombone and Midge DeMichele . . .

THEATER NEWS

Last evening, after the opening of Stuart Cartoon's play, "Defective Story," the play's star, Miss Talulah Milligan, held a cocktail party in her dressing room.

Among the famous stars of stage and screen, we saw Gary Feldtman, who is now appearing in the Broadway production of "Bottom Apple," sequal to "Top Banana." We also noticed Joy Teachout, of "Hysteria Trees," chatting with that charming, vivacious leading lady of "South Passaic," Harriet Guttman. Across the room was Nancy Dempster, sensational new star of "Squigi," who was apparently enjoying a good joke told by Stanley Goldberg of "My Pal Schmoey." In another corner we saw two young playwrights, Leonard Levitan and Roger Roy, probably discussing the possibilities of Levitan's new play, "The Queen and You," which will open next month.

MECHANICS INC.

We went to a Monkey Wrenches Jamboree which was tossed by Mechanics Inc. in the little hamlet of Tarrytown along the Hudson. The quests heard talks about various areas of science and mechanics. Introducing the speakers was John Franceschini, the editor of Mechanics Illustrated.

The first speaker spoke about the field of aviation. The speaker was Melvin Myers, president of Myers Airlines.

The next group was a committee of three from the National Mechanics Union. Heading them was Raymond Avellino, this year's president of the Union. Accompanying him were two other members of the union, Fred Smith and Roland Williams.

Helping the president with the meeting were Harry Johnson and Fred Schlegel.

SOCIAL CHATTER

Last night Miss Harriet Goldberg was presented to society wearing an original gown designed by Carol Osborn. The debutante ball was held in the new hotel Batler, decorated by Gatyas and Fletcher, Inc. . . . Raymond Moore will present a new collection of portraits next week at the Petit Central Palace. Pat McGarret's collection will be moved to the museum of Ancient Art, now directed by Jean Strawson . . . Sunday night Robert Kutrieb will give the "Overture To William Shell." Accompanying him will be Betty Frasca and Bunny Hofstedt on the piano . . . Jack Vieira and Kay Bushel are currently appearing at the Copabanana; you will remember them in "Call Me Madman" directed by Charles Quigley.

Those were some sessions in Health class. Boy will I be glad to finish this course. I don't think I even forgot about the lunch + the jackets.

Lots of Luck "Nat"
Natalie

Hi "Daddy-O"—

It was fun having you in the same homeroom this year + also in Health class. I hope we're in the same homeroom next year + I don't mean Miss Cleveland's. I still don't know what you meant by "slow fish" but maybe someday you'll tell me. Well good luck + best wishes. So long + see you next year when the Dodgers win the Series.

Love 'n' stuff—

Phyllis
